

BETA TESTING PROGRAM

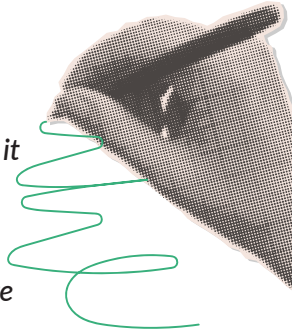

Thank you for being part of the Tuxedo beta! Your feedback will directly shape and improve the product.

By participating in the program, you agree to:

Keep the device in your possession. You're welcome to let friends and family try it, but please don't give it away or loan it out.

Provide feedback regularly. Use the device and submit feedback at least twice a month. I encourage you to send usage statistics and keep the software updated with the included flash drive.

Return the unit if you leave the program. If you no longer wish to participate, contact me for shipping details so the device can be returned.

FEEDBACK

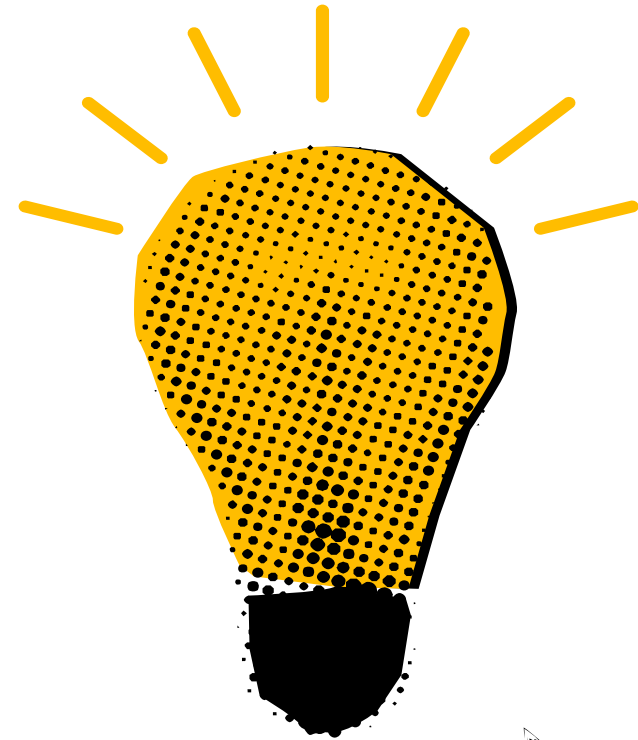

Please text my dedicated work number (iMessage/WhatsApp): (773) 408-0920 with questions, comments, thoughts, ideas — or roles you've enjoyed or videos of your experience. I'd love to see them!

Please also fill out your feedback form via the QR code below (veku.ai/beta/feedback).

TUXEDO

veku.ai/beta

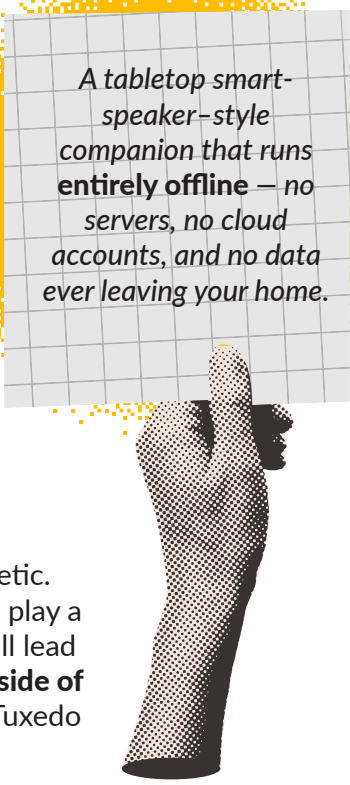

*imagination,
at your service*

WHAT IS TUXEDO?

Tuxedo is an early prototype for a unique conversational AI hardware product — a creative partner built to help you think, invent, and unwind through open-ended conversation.

Unlike other always-listening smart speakers, everything it hears in your home stays on the device: your privacy is guaranteed by design. Inside is a language model trained to be creative and conversational, ready to talk, listen, and invent alongside you.

Be silly and outlandish, or expressive and poetic. Ask for help with a hobby, create characters, play a game, or just chat about your day. Tuxedo will lead you to rediscover a playful and imaginative side of yourself — whatever you feel like being, let Tuxedo follow your lead.

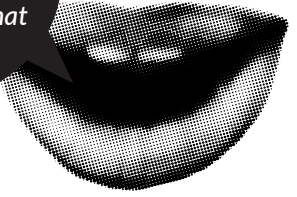

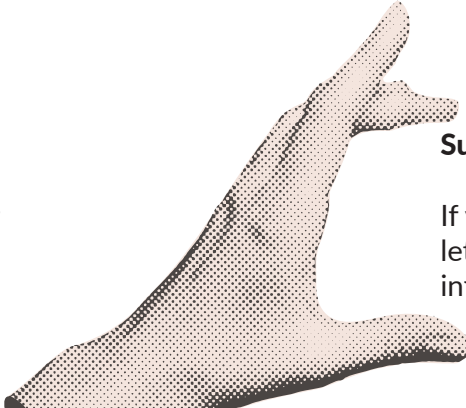

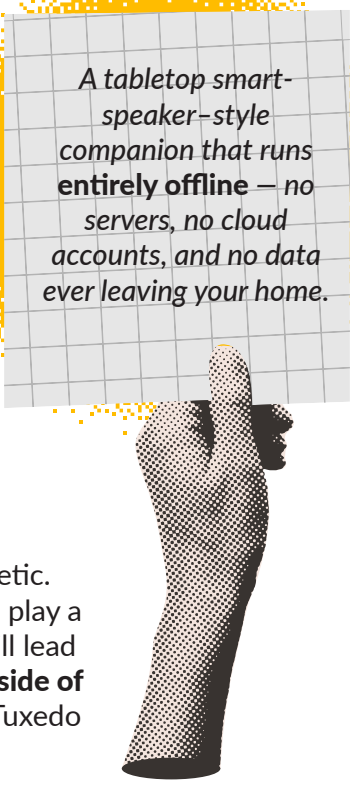

A tabletop smart-speaker-style companion that runs entirely offline — no servers, no cloud accounts, and no data ever leaving your home.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

It starts with a role.

Every conversation begins when you tell Tuxedo who or what to be. Say “Hey Tuxedo, start a new conversation,” then describe the role by saying “You are a...”

Roles work better when you are descriptive and specific: “you are a fitness instructor” is less effective than “you are a friendly and motivating fitness instructor who can help me reach my weight loss goals.”

You are a mysterious fortune teller who talks in rhymes and will ask me about my past and tell me my future.

You are a curious and colorful assistant that will help me journal everyday and remember things that happen.

You are someone that only tells me what I want to hear.

Surprise me!

If you're not sure what kind of role you want, let Tuxedo come up with one for you. For more info/ideas about roles visit veku.ai/beta/roles.

WHY IT'S DIFFERENT

Offline and private. Nothing leaves the device.

Distraction-free. No screen, no feed, no notifications. Just you and your creativity, Hands-free. Fully voice controlled. Talk to Tuxedo while cooking, cleaning, or relaxing — just say the wakeword.

Yours to own. No subscription, no external servers— Tuxedo has everything it needs built in and will keep working as long as you have it.